The Prolinx proposition

Prolinx is offering a managed hybrid cloud service working with public sector departments to migrate from expensive in-house services to a mixture of commodity cloud. This is complemented by Prolinx hosted infrastructure for systems and data that have higher security requirements. All of this will be wrapped up in a single managed service giving end-to-end assurance.

We have a long track record of successfully working with public sector clients and accreditors, building and managing secure systems across a wide range of cases.
